

PIFE presents First Steps

An IFFD Course
For parents of infants to 3 years or soon to be parents

FIRST STEPS is a course developed by professionals at IFFD (International Federation for Family Development, www.ifd.org) that uses the Harvard case study method to explore parenting issues. It is meant to give confidence and practical assistance to parents, who are the first educators of their children.

One of the purposes of early education is to turn all the situations of the family life into amazing moments of learning. Many studies show that adequate early stimulation is the most efficient tool to obtain a complete personal development, in the field of intelligence, psychomotor activity and behavior. This course will help you discover the main pedagogical frameworks and the basic habits that infants and toddlers should acquire.

Join us for a fabulous course and an opportunity to network with other parents!

Course Methodology

is based on the Harvard Business School Case Study Method.
The case study method will challenge you to take a stand and make decisions as you have to do in real life. You will study the facts, problems and solutions for real life situations presented in the case.
The discussions and debates will push you to think broadly and deeply and will foster real engagement and friendship with other couples.
